SINGAPORE MISSION UPDATE

July 28, 2019

TRANSITIONING TO SINGAPORE

By the time you read this our family will already be on our way to Singapore.

The past few weeks have been chaotic and crazy, but filled with love and support of family, friends, and Christian family. We packed up our belongings and sold/gave away pretty much everything we own. Lord willing, our house will sell soon. We packed all we will be taking to Singapore into 12 suitcases – quite a downsize for us! Our last few possessions are graciously being stored in the closets of family and friends. We have been treated to very warm and loving goodbyes from the University congregation (June 30), the Roanoke congregation (June 16), and from many friends at the Peach Valley Christian Camp (July 25). The last few days of July have been full of smiles, laughs, and tears as we say goodbye to family.

Our desire to get this first copy of what we plan to be a regular newsletter is twofold: First, we want to inform people about the good works going on in Singapore and Southeast Asia in which we will be blessed to contribute a small part. Second, we want to keep in regular contact with supporters and encouragers and pray-ers and anyone curious about the work our family has moved across the world to do.

STUDENT SPOTLIGHT

Each month we will be highlighting one of the students at the Four Seas College of Bible and Missions. This month we are sharing pictures of the first and second year classes to “introduce” all of the current students. The first year class includes students from Malaysia, Philippines, and Timor-Leste. The students in the second year class are all from the Philippines.

CULTURE SHOCK

We are very excited and nervous to move our family to a new country, culture congregation, continent, and so much more. There is no doubt that we will experience culture shock and miss the familiar things we know. The great thing about Four Seas is that most of the students come from countries all over Asia; so, we can enjoy culture shock together! It is our desire to share on a regular basis the things we see and learn from living in a new culture. Here is our assurance in the face of culture shock: the God we serve and our faithful brethren encouraging and educating us along the way. In fact, while we will see, hear, smell, and learn things that are different to our sheltered family, we look forward to experiencing each of these things and better understanding other cultures of Asia.
